Week of Jan. 3, 2016

In memory of Newark Rotary President Erin Kennedy

Tuesday's meeting: Noon, Newark Doubletree, program honoring Erin Kennedy. See inside.

Last week's meeting

Reporter: Barb Quackenbush

President-Elect Jack Neely brought the meeting to order at 12:09 pm. Tom Slater started our meeting off by singing R-O-T-A-R-Y accompanied by Steve Rath. New Rotarian John Paul Munhall led us with the invocation and pledge. We also sang, "Going to the Columbus Zoo," sung to the tune of "The Bear Went Over the Mountain"

Announcements:

- Jack gave an update on President Erin Kennedy.
- Jack shared the January Service Project is to bring in toiletries for New Beginnings.
- Rick Platt announced an Interact Club will begin at Wilson Middle School. Informational meeting will be at 2:45 p.m. Jan. 11.

Program: Ron Fuller welcomed Meredith and Hardy from the Zoo and shared how much we all enjoy this program for our children and families.

Meredith shared a bit about their jobs at the zoo and importance and vision of Jack Hanna and his team. The animals that were brought today travel around the country to visit groups and make media appearances.

The first animal was PJ the two-toed Sloth who weighs 25 pounds. The sloth is made to hang upside down and abdominal muscles are made to hold them up. The sloth does not have strong chest muscles and their arms never get tired.

Anchovy, an African Black footed Penguin (warm blooded) was next. Penguins are our smelliest birds and they are perfectly adapted to swimming. Their feathers make a wet suit and are completely waterproof.

Hardy next brought in a Gandolph, a baby kangaroo by carrying him around in the pouch. Kangaroos are born about the size of a jelly bean and are born blind. Between 6-8 months, the mother will kick the baby out of her pouch.

The next animal was an Asian small-pawed otter, named Yang. One of the smartest animals, he can make about 12 different vocalizations and is a "pest" animal in Asia. The otters can break open locks and swim into fisheries in Asia.

Tito the barn owl eats three mice a day and will cough up a pellet each day from eating the mice. The barn owl has such specialized ears he could be blindfolded and would be able to find the mouse with his hearing.

Our next animal was a bearcat born at the Nashville Zoo. The bearcat is a carnivore and also enjoys fruit and produce.

The last animal was a Canadian Lynx. Trixie is 7-8 months old and was born at smaller zoo. Her paws are huge and will be like giant snowshoes.

Winning ticket: Eriech Horvath

Thought for the week: Happy New Year to all! Jack left us with "O-H" and continued thoughts and prayers for President Erin and Scott.

In Memoriam

President Erin Kennedy

Our beloved president, Erin Kennedy, passed away Sunday morning after her second courageous battle with cancer. Our hearts are broken.

People come into our lives for a reason, a season, or a lifetime. They each teach us something, if we let them. Erin taught us many lessons: how to cope with terminal illness, how to love, how to lead with faith and grace. She lived our motto: "Service Above Self."

The great blessing of death is to have learned something valuable that we can hold onto forever. As Erin's friends in Rotary, we have all learned from her.

May our lives honor her with continued "Service Above Self," and may we be strong in support of Scott, Brendan, Sean and the rest of her family.

Tuesday's meeting will include a special remembrance of Erin. Funeral arrangements are pending.
