Last week's meeting

Reporter: Rick Platt

President Erin Kennedy rang the bell to open a joint meeting of the Pataskala, Newark-Heath, Granville, and Newark Rotary Clubs followed by Granville's Amy Huddleston leading an invocation and Pledge of Allegiance.

Announcements:

Newark-Heath's President Joel Sphar read a quote from Paul Harris and was the first of a series of club announcements and stand-up recognition of members present from each club. Noteworthy for Newark members was the Newark-Heath Club's hosting of Pilsners for Polio on Wednesday, Oct. 21 from 6 to 8 p.m. at Homestead Beer Company in Heath.

Shred-It-Day at Ross' IGA in Granville is 10-1 Saturday, Oct. 17 with proceeds of donations going to End Polio Now. Two volunteers are needed for each of the three hours.

Introduction of Guests: President Erin handled the introduction of guests Anne Balogh (Bob Williams), Stephanie McMannis (Pat Jeffries), Tim Bowman (Doug Ute), and Scott Hartley (Eriech Horvath). Assistant District Governor Craig Maxey was introduced as well.

Student guests from Watkins Memorial were introduced along with Principal Ben Richards. Students from North Fork were introduced as well.

Program: President Erin introduced Eriech Horvath who introduced Wayne Campbell and Tyler's Light. Campbell gave up his job to tell his story of personal tragedy in hopes of doing his part to spread a message of greater drug education and awareness. It's a national story that he's now told to 200 schools in six states, to service clubs, and to the national news media.

Campbell introduced the program with a video backgrounder on both the nature of prescription drug abuse issues and the story of his son, Tyler Campbell. Tyler picked up a prescription drug addiction after a sports injury. That led to an abuse of drugs that claimed his life at a young age.

The presentation was peppered with eye-opening statistics designed to increase awareness. The drug-caused deaths in Ohio have risen from four per day three years ago to six per day now. A problem that was thought to have started in Scioto County, Ohio, where 10 million doses of pain meds were prescribed in one year where the population was a mere 80,000 people.

His message was one of advocacy as well. A video for parents encouraged not making their prescription drugs out in their homes. Campbell encouraged the health care industry to change their prescribing methods for pain meds.

Talya Greathouse recited her personal observations, from a physician's point of view, that mirrored Campbell's advocacy. During Q&A, Campbell noted, when asked about State Issue 3 on the statewide ballot, that "99% of parents" of kids with drug addictions say the number one gateway drug was marijuana.

The bottom line message: The fight against drug abuse is a community battle. Pataskala President Jeff Rothweiler adjourned the joint meeting.
