Last week's meeting

Reporter: Rick Platt

President Jack Neely opened the meeting inviting Carol Thress to lead an invocation and Pledge of Allegiance. Secretary Tom Slater and Peter Larson led the club in "Auction Song 2016" sung to the music of "I've Been Working on the Railroad."

Guests: President-Nominee Chuck Moore introduced Alex Milue (Barb Quackenbush); Joshua Zant and Tracie Hill (Pattye Whisman); Mark Daniels (Dave Hile); and Jim Cooper (T.D. Griley). Student guests from Heath were introduced by Trevor Thomas and the bios were read for student guests from Watkins Memorial by Rob Montagnese.

Announcements:

- President Jack noted a card was circulating for Charles Noble. Michael Noble reported favorable future health news for his father.
- While a brief board meeting was convened before the regular meeting, President Jack noted that the regular Friday Board meeting was being rescheduled.
- Tom Mullady and Deb Tegtmeyer gave last minute Rotary Auction appeals followed by Angie Ryan who gave an update on Saturday's upcoming annual auction.
- The Club's "Third Thursday" on October 20 is set for Buckeye Lake Winery.

Sergeant-at-Arms: Pat Jeffries aimed for a large fine pot but instead hit a couple zeros with fines for any Rotarian with an ACT score over 30 and anyone who would claim their political party won the last presidential debate. He fined former Rotarian Tracie Hill (paid by Glenn Abel), Jim Matesich (sixth grandchild, including fifth boy), Nick Adams, Tony Adams, Nate Adams (fined $1 for every year of marriage, equaling $1), and Jack Crockford (fined 1¢ for every year of marriage, rounded up from 68 to $1), Jack Neely, Jon Spahr (2X), Barb Quackenbush, and Fred O'Dell. Ed Bohren honed his auction skills winning the Sergeant's auctions of both Firelands Winery 100-year commemorative wine and The Works-made cordial glasses.

Program: Jerry Besanceney introduced Dr. George Kalbous as retired OSU professor, military intelligence Colonel (retired), and expert on Russia and Vladimir Putin. Kalbous presented remarks from a presentation cleverly titled "Putin on the Risk." George's led off with a joke possessing of both irony and sarcasm. He started, "The question was asked when Putin divorced his wife, 'What was the settlement?' The answer, 'She lived!'"

The speaker outlined Russia's historic goals in the context with the various problems Russia faces and the changing view at home of Russian citizens. Notably, Kalbous pointed out that anti-Americanism is a new view in Russia. During the days of the Soviet Union, public sentiment separated the government view from the countryman's view in a way that was favorable to the U.S. However, a new nationalism is emerging that should give pause to Americans looking to travel to Russia today.

Dr. Kalbous remarked on Putin's strategies and tactics and a strategic return to societal opinions and attitudes of the past. He also pointed out Russia's claim to 460,000 square miles of the arctic continental shelf and the comparison of the 46 icebreaker fleet possessed by Russia and the U.S. fleet of five, which is devoted 100% to the Great Lakes. The bottom line to this move is access to 90 billion barrels of oil and the energy from naturally-occurring methane.

He confessed no doubt about Russia's role in cyberwarfare tactics, particularly the hacking of the Democrat Party emails released this summer. He attributes the hacking's goal to be throwing doubt into the outcome of the U.S. presidential election which will serve to undermine the policy capabilities of whomever is the next POTUS. The hacking followed a pattern Dr. Kalbous labeled "KGB101."

Time did not permit a robust question and answer session, but George concluded with answers to his own presentation's question about the essence of the difference between Russia and the U.S. He starkly concluded: For the U.S., defense is an insurance policy. For Russia, it's an investment for which they need to see how it works.

Thought for the Week: "I'm glad I'm not Brezhnev. Being the Russian leader in the Kremlin, you never know if someone's tape recording what you say."— Richard M. Nixon

The winner of the raffle was Marc Hawk.
